e-pistle for the week of March 1, 2018

Minister's Message

Dear First Congregational Family,

Today is my first day! I am grateful, excited, and hopeful as we begin on this new chapter together. I am grateful for this opportunity to serve as your new settled pastor. You are an answer to my prayers. Thank you for inviting me to join you. So many people worked hard to make this day possible and I want to thank each of you! My heart is grateful to God's Spirit for guiding us to this moment.

I am excited to be part of this community of faith! I am excited about our worship together and about all the ways we will grow. I am excited about what is to come. I am excited to be here with you now.

I am hopeful! Last year I attended a leadership training and was asked to create a personal mission statement. It went something like this: my mission is to partner with others to share God's healing and hope with people in pain and on the margins. I am praying that God uses us to be a place of healing and hope. I am hopeful that together we will be transformed, renewed, and radiant as we share God's love with the world.

With gratitude, excitement and hope,

- Pastor Sarah

What's Happening at FCC

Mission of the Month, One Great Hour of Sharing (OGHS)

2017 was a year of unprecedented disasters—Hurricanes Harvey, Irma, and Maria; heavy rainfall in California followed by deadly landslides; extreme heat and wildfires; tornadoes in the South and Midwest; earthquakes in Mexico and on the Iran/Iraq border; flooding and monsoons in Bangladesh and India; drought and famine in the Horn of Africa. It went on and on. But if you contributed to One Great Hour of Sharing last year, you were there helping. OGHS provides funds to react quickly to disasters around the world. Working with local organizations world-wide, OGHS has infrastructure in place to respond rapidly whenever and wherever disaster strikes. We don't know where the need will come this year, but we can be sure there will be new disasters affecting communities that will need our help. OGHS is one of the UCC's "5 for 5" offerings, which FCC has committed to support. While small donations are always welcome, this is one offering that we urge you to support generously. Be there helping with the next crisis by donating now. Use the special envelopes or put OGHS in the notation line of your check. Thank you.

St. Luke's United Methodist Church

100 W. 86th Street

Environmentally responsible ways to invest endowment funds and other pools of money is a topic of frequent debate in many organizations including congregations. These discussions are often fueled by media coverage or by single issue advocates but do not apply a more systematic approach using key environmental and creation care principles. This workshop addresses directly the important role congregational investment leaders can play in developing key principles, assessing responsible investment choices, assuring financial performance and communicating the principles, practices, and results to the congregation and community. The workshop is also targeted for individuals within congregations that perceive the benefit to this approach as well

Minister's Message

Dear First Congregational Family,

Do you remember what it was like to be a young child and open Christmas presents? You see the gift wrapped, sitting beneath the tree, and you wonder with excitement what could be inside? My first two weeks for me feel like opening beautifully wrapped gifts as I encounter new people, new ideas and new ways of being church. For me, being your new pastor is like opening a gift I have eagerly waited for...and now the wrapping paper comes off and I get to see what is inside the box. Inside First Congregational, I am finding gifts of faith, hope, passion, peace, compassion, joy and love.

Now since it is Lent and not Advent or Christmas, I considered not sharing these thoughts with you for fear that I may be viewed as out of season. However, sometimes Christmas comes in Lent. Sometimes the gift of Christ comes as a surprise. Sometimes God's gifts show up after the Christmas decorations have been put away. This church is a gift...to me and to so many others.

Thank you for all the kind words of welcome and encouragement as we start our journey together. It is wonderful to get to know each of you. You are a gift to me.

I hope to see you Sunday!

Blessings,

- Pastor Sarah

Continuing our Lenten journey of discipleship, this week we explore ways in which Jesus was – and was not – inclusive in his ministry, and what his ministry says for ours in this regard. Who do we include and how do we go about that? What more can we do? Matthew 15:21-28 tells us how Jesus learned something about being more inclusive, and surely there's more for us to learn as well. All are welcome.

Minister's Message

Dear First Congregational Family,

Creating Beloved Community, these first few weeks with you all has blessed me with a deepening sense of joy. As we prepare to enter Holy Week this Sunday with our Palm Sunday worship, Maundy Thursday 7pm worship with communion in the sanctuary and Easter Sunday, we are invited to go deeper and to grow closer to the heart of God.

I am looking forward to our first Holy Week and Easter season together. The mystery of our faith is highlighted in these sacred stories of Jesus' life, ministry, arrest, execution, burial and resurrection. I want to invite you and challenge you to join me in paying attention to where the Spirit shows up in these days to come. As you hear the stories of Holy Week and Easter, what stirs inside of you? What bubbles up inside? What is the Still Speaking God saying to you right now?

I am listening. I am listening to you, to God, and to my own heart. I am here, ready to give and receive the joy that comes from creating beloved community. I am with you on this journey of faith. It is good to know that right where you are is right where you need to be. No matter who you are or where you are on life's journey, you are welcome to be right where you are...right where you need to be...I hope you will join us in this holy season as we gather for worship and life together as beloved community.

With gratitude for the journey together,

Palm Sunday! Pastor Sarah's sermon this week will be "Trust in the Lord".

Palm Sunday is a day of celebration but also a day of recognition of the price Jesus would pay for his actions, especially his intentional voice in speaking truth to power. This Sunday we will review some of those episodes throughout his ministry, including his courage and audacity at the very end of his life. Strangely enough, the Three "Wise Guys" that visited New Creation throughout Advent will make a re-appearance at our worship as they stand in solidarity with Jesus, then and now.

Minister's Message

Dear First Congregational Family,

Tonight we will gather in the sanctuary at 7pm for a time of thoughtful reflection as we recall the story of Jesus' last week, remember the Last Supper, enter into the shadows and witness the stripping of the church. Easter will come, but first, we quiet ourselves and deepen our sense of God's presence in the midst of the shadows and light of this world. If you can't join us in person, consider taking a moment of silent reflection this evening and ponder the mysteries of God's presence in the midst of all the sorrows of this world.

Sunday marks our Easter day celebration and the beginning of a new season in the church. In this season each of us is invited to come together in small groups (sign-up sheets are in the church narthex). The purpose of these small gatherings (8-10 people) is for me as your new pastor to listen to your hopes and dreams for our church. It's the best way to begin...to share and listen to one another and see how God's dreams are unfolding within us. I really hope you will join us in these small group gatherings. I am eager to share Easter with you and prepare for our season of rebirth.

With hope in the midst of the shadows,

Pastor Sarah

Worship for Sunday

Traditional Service - 11:00 a.m.

Easter! Pastor Sarah's sermon this week will be "Who Will Open the Door?".

New Creation - 5:30 p.m.

Even with conflicting versions of the events of the first Easter morning, it's probably safe to say that all was not what it seemed that day. The day began with intense grief and mourning among the followers of Jesus, but we know from the variety of accounts that their grief quickly turned to rejoicing in new life. So it is with our own stories of sadness turning to joy. We pray that all is not what it seems in our time of despair, and the Resurrection is the basis of our hope. Join us in celebrating that hope and the promise of new life through the Resurrection this Easter Sunday.

Mission of the Month, Exodus Refugee

Despite significant cuts to the US immigration program by the present administration, refugees are still arriving in Indianapolis to make their new homes. Exodus Refugee Immigration is a local, independent, nonsectarian, not-for-profit 501 C3 organization that resettles legally admitted refugees who have experienced persecution in their home countries and are unable to return. Since 1981 Exodus has been welcoming thoroughly vetted refugees and helping them achieve self-sufficiency in their new homes in our community. Exodus is still serving new arrivals, arriving from Burma (now including Rohingya), Congo, and Syria, and those already here with a variety of programs designed to help them achieve self-sufficiency. Exodus not only meets the basic needs of these newcomers but provides a full array of services including social and medical services, English language training, cultural orientation, and employment services, all of which help these new members of the community settle in and thrive.

Please give generously to support the important work Exodus does. You may contribute dollar bills in the offering plate or larger amounts in the "Mission Offering" envelopes in the pew pockets. If you choose to write a check, make it out to the church and mark "Exodus" on the notation line. At a time when we sometimes wonder "What can I do?" this is something we can do to make a difference. Exodus and these newcomers will greatly appreciate your help. Thank you for your support.
