FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

E-pistle for the Week of February 7, 2019

Message

Dear First Congregational:

To kick off Black History Month, here are two bite-sized pieces of wisdom from the late, great literary genius, Maya Angelou. Like gems, these are ideas you can put in your pocket, and take them out whenever you need them :)

Gem #1:

Angelou didn't call herself a Christian - not exactly. In an interview on the occasion of being awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom, she put it this way:

"I'm always amazed when people walk up to me and say, 'I'm a Christian. I think, 'Already? You already got it?' I'm working at it, which means that I try to be as kind and fair and generous and respectful and courteous to every human being."

Gem #2:

In another interview, Angelou said that while she was taught to believe in God, she became courageous when she made that belief her own. "I dared to do anything that was a good thing. I dared to do things distant from what seemed to be in my future. When I was asked to do something good, I often say yes, I'll try, yes, I'll do my best. And part of that is believing, if God loves me, if God made everything from leaves to seals and oak trees, then what is it I can't do?"

So in Angelou's honor, let's keep these gems close and remember that being "Christian" is always a work in progress - and that God's creative love makes all things possible!

Barber II is pastor of Greenleaf Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Goldsboro, NC, president of the North Carolina NAACP, and a member of the National NAACP Board. As a full-time pastor, he has given countless volunteer hours to civil rights and movement building, because of his conviction that there is no real worship without a commitment to justice and social change. He has been featured in the Wall Street Journal, CNN, MSNBC, the New York Times, and numerous other publications, and has spoken, preached and lectured around the country. In 2018 he was named as a recipient of the prestigious MacArthur Fellowship Genius Grant."*

What's Happening at FCC

Immigration Letters

On Sun Jan 27th, the Adult Education class discussed immigration and wrote letters to Congress to encourage a long term solution to immigration problems rather than short term fixes that do not promote stability and continuity in policy for those coming to the U.S. and those already here. We spoke to our faith and our desire to have all people treated with respect.

If anyone else would like to contact their legislators, on the table in the Narthex below the winter wall hanging is a sheet containing our Senators and 5th and 7th district House representatives addresses and phone numbers. There is also paper to use for your letter. Please send your letter to the Congressperson's Indianapolis address so it doesn't get caught in the extensive mail check that delays any mail sent to Congress persons' Washington address until it can be certified to be free of poisons.

You will note there is no Indianapolis office for Mike Braun, possibly because he is a new office holder. You can phone his office 202-224-4814 and leave a message asking him to set up an Indianapolis office. That might encourage him to get this vital link to his constituents set up sooner rather than later.

If anyone who has not attended the Education hour is interested in joining us please feel free to attend our sessions at the time listed above in the Adult Library on the 2nd floor.

Friends of First Jazz Trio

Join us Saturday February 16th in the Mayflower room for a concert of music presented by our worship musicians Julie Houston, Sean Baker, and Jesse Wittman. These musicians' careers have expanded beyond the roles of choir director, organist, and bassist for worship services. Julie will bring us some of her expertise in Brazillian music and jazz. Sean's inventive and sometimes comical arrangements of standards will delight you. If you've never heard a string bass player really swing, Jesse is one of the best jazz bass soloists in the city! The concert starts at 7:00 p.m. but come early to get your choice of desserts.

Tickets are $10 and available each Sunday after church. Please see any choir member.

EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE NEEDED - IHN

Assistance is needed by an IHN hosting congregation. There was a large fire at New Bethel Missionary Baptist Church. Everyone was okay. A large part of the church property where families are hosted in the IHN program was severely damaged, leaving a gap in hosting February 17-24 and other weeks. St. Mark's United Methodist generously agreed to keep families the week of February 17-24, but requested help recruiting volunteers for meals, driving, overnight, etc. Would you please consider signing up for one volunteer role (the sign up covers both their back-to-back hosting weeks, so feel free if unavailable 2/17-24 to instead sign up for a role 2/10-17) using the sign up genius link. Thank you for considering!

Mindful Movement - February 19, 9:30 a.m.

Extra Food for Food Pantry

The shutdown has affected food banks nationwide as government workers without paychecks resorted (and in some cases are still resorting) to them for food assistance. If the shutdown returns on the 15th, SNAP recipients may also make greater demands on food pantries. Please bring extra food over the next several weeks to help meet this unexpected need. Any food items are welcome whether or not they are on the list for the month. This is a small way we can respond to the effect of the shutdown.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

E-pistle for the Week of February 15, 2019

Message

Dear First Congregational:

We are coming up on my one year anniversary on the first of March of serving in ministry with you as your pastor. Thank you for your invitation to journey with you on this shared pilgrimage of faith. As I reflect on the past year, I remain grateful and joyful about being your pastor.

Thank you for supporting the ministry I do serving the wider church in my role on the UCC National Staff as the Minister for Disabilities and Mental Health Justice. In the next couple of weeks I will be lecturing about disabilities and mental health justice at Princeton Theological Seminary, leading a WISE (Welcoming, Inclusive, Supportive, and Engaged) training at City of Refuge UCC in Oakland, CA and preaching at First Congregational of Palo Alto, CA.

Thank you for blessing this ministry to the wider church with your support and prayers. I am especially grateful to Carol Sowle for providing pastoral care and for preaching on February 24. Our congregation is blessed by many talented leaders and I am honored to partner with others to fulfill our shared mission.

Blessings,
Pastor Sarah

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

E-pistle for the Week of February 21, 2019

Message

Dear First Congregational:

A place to belong, a place to heal and a place to love...these words summarize how we see ourselves being and becoming as a church. Belonging, healing and loving happen when we come together as one. This theme will guide us as we begin the Lenten season, starting with Ash Wednesday on March 6, leading us to Easter on April 21. To encourage our experiences of belonging, healing and loving, we invite each member of the congregation to join a small group for four weeks during Lent, beginning the week of March 11 and ending the week of April 8. Small groups will meet in the homes of church members as well as one group meeting at our church. Small groups will meet four times together, so that over the four times you gather, you are able to develop a sense of belonging to your small group, share in healing conversations, and build loving relationships.

We are excited to offer small groups as a way to grow closer to each other and grow closer to God. Sign-up sheets for small groups are available in the Narthex and we encourage you to give it a try. You pick the small group that works best for you, with the location, date and time that works for your life. Try to make it your Lenten practice to attend your small group the four times they meet. Each small group will have a host and also a facilitator who will guide the small group through reflection of scripture and interactive exploration of various faith practices (such as prayer and poetry). This will be a fun and meaningful way for us to develop and deepen our sense of community as the Body of Christ.

I give thanks to God for each of you,
Pastor Sarah
